

Seeing Nature Through New Eyes

Saturday, April 25, 2009

10am-3pm

Drawing wildflowers and trees is something everyone can do, with a little help from special guest Jean Jamsa. Participants in this workshop will spend a relaxing day in the spring woods, and will...

- Get comfortable with an easy drawing technique
- Create a beautiful and personal booklet
- Learn some native spring wildflowers
- Experience nature in a whole new way

Get ready to discover the artist within and soak up some incredible natural beauty. This workshop is designed for people of all ages, so come by yourself or bring the whole family.

Where: Nature Center at Turkey Run State Park

What to bring:

1. A $5/person donation will help defray costs of workshop
2. Picnic lunch and drink (or plan to eat at the Inn)

Pre-registration is available:

bcummings@dnr.IN.gov or 765-597-2654 or stop by the nature center.

Standard gate fees apply: $5/Indiana car, $7/non-resident car

